Negotiations for Arms Limitations Are Consummated

Treaties Reducing Navies and Restricting Other Agencies of Warfare Publicly Approved

Soon to Be Signed

Far Eastern Wing of Conference Moves Toward Completion of Its Tasks

(By The Associated Press).

Washington, Feb. 1 — The Washington negotiations for limitation of armaments reached their consummation today when a plenary session of the arms conference gave definite and public approval to the two treaties limiting navies and restricting the use of new agencies of warfare.

One of the covenants thus sealed after eleven weeks of debate establishes a fixed ratio of capital ship strength between the five great powers, and the other pledges them against unrestricted submarine warfare and the use of poison gas. Within a day or two, the plenipotentiaries of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy will formally affix their signatures.

At the same session, the Far Eastern wing of the conference moved toward completion of its tasks by announcing officially the terms of the Shantung settlement and by giving final approval to nine of the resolutions adopted in committee in regard to Chinese problems. The agreement on Shantung already has been put into a treaty draft between Japan and China and the other Far Eastern settlements are to be embodied in at least two general conventions which will come before the conference shortly.

As soon as Japan's intention to withdraw from Shantung had been definitely stated, the British announced formally for the first time that their government was ready to hand back to China the leasehold of Wei-Hai-Wei. The French let it be known tonight, however, that they expected to treat directly with China over the possible retirement from their leased territory in Kwangchow-Wan, a decision which appeared to becloud the prospect of any general conference agreement regarding the Chinese leased territories.

Serious Obstacles Encountered.

Two other conference projects, one relating to the Chinese Eastern railway and the other to the prohibition of importation of arms into China, also were resumed today. The Japanese made some technical objections to the Far Eastern proposal which, coupled with Chinese and French opposition to other features, resulted in appointment of a Japanese-French-Chinese subcommittee to consider a compromise. The Italians and Japanese presented such pertinent reservations to the arms importation resolution that it was virtually decided not to press it for adoption.

The naval limitation treaty, whose text was made public for the first time with its submission to today's plenary session, contained no surprises and was approved by the conference without general discussion. Its terms, which had been completely forecast by published accounts of the negotiations, provide for a 5-5-3-1.6-1.6 capital ship ratio for the United change the American limitation proposal laid before the opening meeting of the conference by him on November 12. He was followed by Albert Sarraut, head of the French delegation, who disclaimde for his country the militaristic purposes he said had been attributed to it during the Washington negotiations. Then the roll of the five powers was called and unanimous approval of the treaty given by nods of the head all around the table.

Hughes Praises Accomplishment.

There was applause when Mr. Hughes said that the United States retained the number of capital ships proposed on Nov. 12, and that Great Britain and Japan were situated similarly, the latter with the exception of the new battleship Mutsu.

In the American proposals, Mr. Hughes said, four principles had been governing. They were first, that all capital ships now building and contemplated should be abandoned; second, that there should be a further reduction of naval armaments by scrapping older ships; third, that regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers, and fourth, that capital ship tonnage should be used as a basis for determining the allotment of the five great powers, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, respectively; impose various restrictions on the size and armament of other types of warcraft, and establish a fortifications "status quo" in the Pacific.

In the separate submarine and poison gas treaty, an attempt is made to outlaw submarines as commerce destroyers and to prohibit chemical warfare altogether. The language of the convention follows almost exactly the terms of the Root resolutions adopted by the armament committee several weeks ago.

Secretary Hughes presented the naval limitation treaty to the conference and in a speech of 40 minutes explained its provisions, and declared it preserved without vital mining proportions of auxiliary craft.

Touching on the system of actual scrapping of capital ships, Mr. Hughes said: "I might call this the donaturing of capital ships." The phrase was greeted with laughter.

Secretary Hughes, in closing, said that no more extraordinary or significant treaty probably had ever been negotiated.

"Obviously it means an enormous saving of money," he said, "and the lifting of heavy burdens from the people.

"This treaty absolutely ends the race in naval competition. At the same time it leaves the security of the powers unimpaired, but it means more. The best thing is the spirit manifested by which we are able to reach this conclusion.

"We are taking the greatest forward step to establish the reign of peace."

RAILROADS SEEN AS VILLAIN IN DRAMA

Producers Fail to Make Profits and Consumers Pay Too Much For Their Needs

New York, Feb. 1.—Instead of a learned discourse on transportation which members of the Railway Business association expected to hear from their president, Alba B. Johnson, at the annual meeting here tonight, they heard a talk on "Rainbows, Optimists and Pessimists."

President Johnson's address turned out to be a report of what "the great and near-great of America think of the trend of the times and their definitions of optimism and pessimism."

Authors of the replies were classified according to their views as: False optimists, muscular optimists, pessimists, jokesmiths, the female of the species optimist, and gentlemen optimists.

The list of pessimists included W. T. Hornady, director of the New York zoo, because he said, "All my friends have their umbrellas up, in an effort to prepare for the worst."

Mark Sullivan, Otis Skinner and William C. Redfield, former secretary of commerce, were included in the jokesmith's column because they wouldn't take the question seriously. Among the feminine optimists, Mr. Johnson enumerated Mrs. Winifred Sackville Stoner, "wonder mother of a wonder daughter and a wonder son-daughter-in-law;" Elsie Janis, Amelia Galli-Curci, Elsie M. Hill and Maude Ballington Booth.

William J. Burns, director of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, was listed as "gentleman optimist," because he said that crime had reached its apex and is decreasing.

Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, described the railroads of today as the "villain" in the drama in which appear the producers, who are suffering from an inadequate return on their products, and the consumers, who are paying high prices for their needs. The speaker asserted that the gross volume of business is in a way to undergo substantial increases during the year and in that fact lies hopefulness for the railroad industry and the business which depends upon it.

WILL AID FARMERS WITHHOLDING MILK

New England Milk Producers' Association to Assess All Its Members

Boston, Feb. 1.—The New England Milk Producers' association, which claims 90,000 members in New England and Eastern New York, voted today to empower the director to levy an assessment on all members as partial reimbursement for producers who were withholding milk from one of the large Boston distributing companies which had refused to buy on terms proposed by the sales committee of the association. Other Boston distributors have agreed to the terms. The "pooling plan" for the marketing of milk was discussed by E. R. Eastman, editor of the Dairymen's League News, and Richard Pattee of Newton.

The following officers were elected: Vice President, Charles H. Fields, Reed's Ferry, N. H.; Treasurer, Herbert L. Webster, West Canaan, N. H.; Clerk, Richard Pattee, Newton, Mass.; Directors, L. E. McIntyre, East Waterford, Me.; George N. Putnam, Contoocook, N. H.; Fred E. Gorham, South Newbury, Vt.; Elmer Poole, North Dartmouth, Mass.; E. W. Thlement, Albion, R. I.; D. A. Sikes, Ellington, Conn., and George R. Little, Schaghticoke, N. Y. The directors will choose the president.

NEW YORK FIGHTS ORGANIZED THEFT

Eight Merchants and Two Chauffers Held for Carrying on Merchandise Robberies

New York, Feb. 1.—The fight against organized theft of merchandise while in transit through the streets of New York resulted in the indictment and arrest today of eight merchants and two chauffeurs on charges of receiving stolen property. The drivers also were charged with grand larceny. The drivers confessed complicity in the theft of nine truck-loads of merchandise valued at $50,000, according to District Attorney Murphy.

In the past 16 months, the indicted men engineered 90 per cent of the numerous thefts of merchandise in trucks, it was alleged by Arthur G. McKeever, president of a trucking company whose trucks were stolen several times while engaged in making deliveries.

The merchants accused of having used their places to store the stolen goods are Abraham, Artie and Harry Schulman, cloak and suit dealers; Harry Goldberg and Benjamin Walter, cloaks and suits; Solomon Sudit, Brooklyn crayon dealer, and John Herskowitz, cloaks and suits.

The chauffeurs, Edward O'Connor and John Higgins, were in the Toombs tonight.

Albany, Feb. 1.—Governor Miller just smiled today when his attention was called to a report suggesting that he would be a candidate for reelection next fall on a non-partisan alliance ticket which would include former Governor Alfred E. Smith as candidate for United States senator.

MOVIE THEATRE CHEAPLY BUILT

Senator Capper, After Investigating Ruins, Blames Bad Engineering for the Disaster

GOV. MILLER ACTS

Requests Industrial Commissioner to Prepare Legislation to Supervise All Building

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 1.—Bad engineering, coupled with cheap and faulty construction, was held responsible for the collapse last Saturday night of the roof of the Knickerbocker theatre and the resultant loss of nearly a hundred lives by Senator Capper of Kansas in a statement issued today after an investigation of the ruins of the ill-fated structure.

He said District of Columbia officials who approved the plans for such construction as was used in the Knickerbocker theatre were responsible "to a large extent for the collapse of the building.

"Government engineers on the ground told me," said Senator Capper's statement, "that none of the bearings of the truss or beams upon the walls were anchored or fastened to the falls, which in my judgment was a fundamental error in such construction, because any unusual disturbing cause might gradually slip the beams from their support. If the main truss had extended further into the wall so that by any bending it would not have pulled from its support, the truss would not have slipped off the supporting lintel and the catastrophe would have been averted."

Coincident with Senator Capper's statement, the American Association of Engineers, through its office here, issued a statement in which it declared the disaster "was evidently due to either faulty design or construction which would not have existed had licensed engineers or architects supervised the work."

Other developments in the various investigations today were an announcement from Coroner Nevitt that he would begin the inquest into the deaths of two of the victims next Tuesday, and a conference beween District Attorney Gordon and the two army officers detailed to assist him preparatory to presentation of the matter to the grand jury.

The Slush-Bound Capitol.

Washington, Feb. 1. — President Harding went out for himself early this evening and got a first-hand view of the slush-bound capitol.

Accompanied by Secretary Christian, he slipped from the White House just before 6 o'clock and headed for the "F" street shopping district.

Thousands of government clerks, other home-goers and late shoppers were wallowing almost hopelessly in the sea of slush or gingerly picking their way over the dirty, ice-covered pavements as they jostled along or scrambled to get abroad the scarce and over-burdened trolley cars.

Mr. Harding ventured as far down as the patent office, with the secret service men puffing behind, and then turned homeward to dinner, going over practically the same route.

Common report has it that the President was much interested in the complaint of capitol citizens that the work of clearing up the remains of the blizzard is going slowly, and he may have gone forth to see for himself.

At the White House, it was said he wanted a little exercise before dinner.

BUT 23 NEW YORK CITIES HAVE BUILDING CODES

Albany, Feb. 1. — Governor Miller today announced that he had requested Charles D. Sayer, state industrial commissioner, to prepare legislation which will assure some more effective supervision of public buildings in order to prevent in New York state any disaster paralleling that at the Knickerbocker theatre in Washington.

"I talked with Commissioner Sayer," said the governor, "and was uprised to learn that only 23 cities of the state have building codes. I have requested Commissioner Sayer to prepare a measure which assures some more effective supervision of such buildings."

The Governor expects to have the legislation presented this year, and he hopes its general purpose will be stimulate local action in all cities in the state in regard to building and theatre inspection. He expressed the belief that in view of the theatres which have been going up in "mushroom" fashion, certain minimum standards might suitably be lodged with the state industrial commission, he said.

Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, Democrat of New York, today introduced in the legislature a bill proposing an amendment to the labor law to provide for quarterly inspection by the industrial commissioner of all amusement places. The amendment also provides that after July 1 next no building shall be used as a theatre unless a certificate as to its safety has been obtained from the commissioner.

The bill would empower the commission to order alterations or repairs to buildings so as to render them safe, to refuse licenses, and to condemn existing structures.

Violations of the law or orders of the commission would be defined as a misdemeanor punishable by fines of $500 to $5,000 for corporations; and by fines of $500 to $5,000 and imprisonment for not more than a year for individuals.

NEW OFFER FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

North Carolinian Says His Lease Would Net Government Approximately 537 Billion Dollars

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 1.—On the eve of delivery to congress by Secretary Weeks of Henry Ford's offer for the government properties at Muscle Shoals, Ala., Frederick E. Engstrum of Wilmington, N. C., presented the war secretary with an amended proposal to complete, lease and operate the Muscle Shoals properties for the manufacture of nitrates and fertilizers.

The amended proposal was accompanied by a letter signed by Marion Butler, action legal advisor for Mr. Engstrum, which recited the outstanding features of the proposal as follows:

A guaranteed cost to complete; government retains ownership and preserves assets of $141,000,000; returns from investment on a basis of 400,000 kilowat gross developments; this lease will pay to the government, the letter says, $3,504,000 per year for 50 years, or a total at compound four per cent interest of approximately $537,000,000,000; this cash will be used to produce cheap nitrates for fertilizers or can be turned into the treasury at the option of the government.

Success of nitrate manufacture which can be economically used for fertilizer is dependent entirely on sale of power; without the support of power development and sale of excess power to finance the nitrate plant it would not be possible to continue the manufacture and sale of nitrates.

LIBEL SUIT AGAINST TRIBUNE UNDER WAY

Former German Editor Praises William Hale Thompson, Who Is Suing Chicago Daily

New York, Feb. 1. — George Sylvester Viereck, formerly editor of "The Fatherland," today endorsed Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, who is suing the Chicago Tribune for $500,000 for alleged libel in connection with articles criticizing him for permitting certain alleged pro-German meetings to be held in his city.

Testimony of Mr. Viereck and the more than a score of other New York witnesses is being taken before a commissioner appointed on application of the newspaper.

Viereck said he was in entire sympathy with Mayor Thompson in the suit and admired him "as one of the few public officials who was courageous enough to stand up for real Amerianism." He said he had in 1920 suggested him for vie-president on an all-American national ticket.

The witness asserted that, although he was against the war, he had not opposed government activities and exhibited letters of commendation from Hans Reig, who directed the Liberty Loan drive among German-Americans.

Alliance of Miners With Rail Workers Advocated By Lewis

Head of United Mine Workers of America Sends Letters to Officers of 16 R. R. Unions

McAdoo Testifies

Tells Senators Roads Were in Better Shape When Returned Than When Taken Over

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—Renewal of efforts to form an alliance of coal miners and railroad workers, the two largest labor groups in the United States, was sought today by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workes of America, for the avowed purpose of bringing two million workers together "in resistance to proposed attacks on wage scales."

In letters sent to officers of 16 railroad unions Mrs. Lewis invited the railroad men to confer with the miners' officials "at the earliest possible date." Besides the invitation, Mr. Lewis issued a formal statement asserting that the railroad men were facing efforts "to enforce further unwarranted wage cuts on them, and that "certain interests are seeking wage reductions in the coal industry."

1,500,000 in Rail Unions.

"In order to cope with this situation and successfully combat this frenzied hysteria," the statement added, "the mine workers are willing to pool their interests with the railroad organizations and stand with them in resistance to the proposed attacks on wage scales."

Mr. Lewis, in discussing the proposal, placed the membership of the miners' union at 500,000 and the combined membership of the railroad unions at 1,500,000 to 1,750,000.

The movement for the alliance, Mr. Lewis said, was started at the miners' convention in 1919 with the appointment of a committee to confer with the chiefs of the "Big Four" brotherhoods. In July, 1920, the committee met with the brotherhod chiefs, agreeing that the alliance was not then advisable. This agreement was reported to the miners' convention held last September, which directed that further efforts be made to create the alliance, resulting in the invitation issued today.

M'ADOO DEFENDS FEDERAL CONTROL OF THE RAILROADS

Washington, Feb. 1. — The railroads of the country were in better physical condition at the end of the period of federal control than they had been when taken over during the war, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and wartime director general of railroads, today told the senate interstate commerce committee in giving an accounting of his guardianship of the properties during 1918. The committee, which is conducting an inquiry into recent railroad conditions, was unable to hear all of Mr. McAdoo's testimony today and he will continue his statement tomorrow.

Mr. McAdoo contended railroad labor had been loyal, remaining at its post when more lucrative employment was offered in other industries, and that wage increases made while he was director general were not excessive but subsequently were further increased.

Returned in Good Condition.

The railroads, when turned back to their owners, he declared, with 2,006 more locomotives, 26,815 more freight cars and 1,051 more passenger cars than they had possessed at the beginning of federal control, "were in condition to meet the heaviest traffic demands in their history."

"The credit of the railroad was destroyed before the war," Mr. McAdoo told the committee, quoting statements by railroads executives on the subject.

Not only was was transportation machine kept running, he insisted, but its condition was improved, its equipment extended, and it was returned to private owners in such shape that it was able to handle greater volume of traffic in 1920 than ever before.

Mr. McAdoo took sharp issue with railroad presidents who have, before congressional committees and the interstate commerce commission, made declarations to the contrary. He presented copies of letters sent by him in 1918 to Presidents Rea of the Pennsylvania and Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio among others, notifying them he considered their management unsatisfactory and inefficient.

No Apologies Necessary.

"The measures take during the year 1918 called for no 'apologies,'" said a report signed by A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central, and six other railroad men, who were regional directors under the railroad administration, which Mr. McAdoo presented as "conclusive answer" to the charges he mentioned. "They were caused by war conditions, and the efficient operation of the railroads in support of the government during the war justifies every act of the administration."

Disregarding the unfairness of comparing railroad operations during war when general needs of the country had to be put secondary to the "imperious necessity of war," Mr. McAdoo said the report he cited and also the records showed that by any test "railroad operations in the year 1918 were conducted with great efficiency, skill and ability." Contrasted with that in 1917 their condition, approaching paralysis, he said, "made the railroad system of the United States the strongest ally of the German kaiser." Mr. McAdoo quoted from the statements of railroad presidents before congressional committees and the interstate commerce commission in that year, to sustain his remark, mentioning notably testimony of President Rea, who said their condition "had become a menace to the country."

Ablest Men Summoned.

While making "no drastic changes in the management of railroads" as director general, Mr. McAdoo said, he had "called at once to his aid some of the ablest men in the railroad world." Notwithstanding, in January, 1918 he addressed an identical letter to heads of several of the largest systems, saying that he "was not fully satisfied with the efficiency of the management" and "looked to officers of the system to bring about improvement."

"We are in a great war and excuses are not worth anything," the letter said in part. "The only thing that tells now is results."

Five months later, he said, on the demonstration as made, the officers of the corporations were superseded by the regional railroad directors.

"The issue is inescapable," he said, after reciting the measures taken, "if there was in 1918 extravagance and inefficiency, these railroad executives were guilty of it, and if they were not guilty then they are now, for their own purposes, guilty of an attempt to smirch the record. What excuse can they offer for their reckless and indiscriminate criticism of the operation of railroads under federal control?"

The deficit incurred during the first five months, before the regional directors took charge, was much greater than that which was incurred during the sven months remaining of the same year, Mr. McAdoo said, and this demonstrated the conclusion he had given.

Clerks' Grievances Board.

New York, Feb. 1. — Further hearings on the demand of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks for added pay proportionate to the extra hour recently added to their working day, were held here today by Ben W. Hooper, W. L. McMenimen and G. W. W. Hangar, members of the Railroad Labor board. The clerks' hours were lengthened from seven to eight hours last fall by the board's order.

The board members also heard grievance complaints of several individual members of the New York Central and Lehigh Valley railroads.

TWO U. S. INDOOR RECORDS BROKEN AT MILLROSE MEET

New York, Feb. 1. — Two American indoor records were broken tonight in the annual winter track and field meet of the Millrose athletic association.

Joie Ray, fleet-footed Chicagoan, ran a mile and a half in the remarkably fast time of six minutes, 42 2-5 seconds, clipping 4 1-5 seconds from his previous record made in the same games on January 24, 1917. In accomplishing this feat, he succeeded in lapping the entire field of star runners pitted against him.

The other record was made by John L. Murphy, Notre Dame, who cleared the bar in the high jump at six feet four and three quarters inches. This was one-fourth of an inch higher than the previous record made by Sam C. Lawrence, Boston A. A., on February 3, 1912.

Bandits Attack Hartford Physician, Get $77,300

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 1. — Dr. Ely Morgan was robbed of bonds and cash aggregating $77,300 by two bandits who attacked him in his office tonight. The men escaped in an automobile containing three other men which had been waiting in front of the office. The machine bore a Massachusetts marker.

Dr. Morgan, who is 68 years old, told the police that the two men came to his office and asked for medicine. Not having one of the ingredients he needed, the physician left his office and went to a drug store near by to obtain it. When he returned he said he found his office door locked. He unlocked the door and was grabbed by one of the men.

In a tussle, the doctor was hit over the head and one of the bandits then searched his clothing, taking $2,300 in bills which the physician said he was carrying. The pair then fled to the waiting automobile and disappeared before the hold-up became known. Dr. Morgan said mining company bonds worth $75,000 were taken from his desk, probably while he was out of the office.

ARBUCKLE'S FATE IN HANDS OF JURY

Defense Springs Surprise by Submitting Case Without Argument; Courtroom Thronged

San Francisco, Feb. 1. — Final arguments were concluded in the second trial of a manslaughter charge against Roscoe C. Arbuckle and the case was given to the jury at 3:42 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Estelle Bannister, one of the two alternate jurors who were excused when the jury retired, said that in her opinion Arbuckle is not guilty. Harry Cunningham, the other alternate, declined to express an opinion, although he congratulated the defense on its showing.

The defense spring a surprise by announcing it would submit the case to the jury without argument. This action so accelerated the case that the jury was able to begin deliberating a day earlier than had been expected.

Arbuckle, jovial and apparently carefree most of the day, was visibly nervous when the jury retired. A throng was drawn to the court room for the final arguments and the police guard had its hands full for the first time since the trial opened.

SPECIALTIES LEAD THE STOCK MARKET

Endicott - Johnson, Kayser and Other Issues Make Extreme Gains of 2 to 5 Points

New York Feb. 1.—The stock market resumed its dull and uneven course, various specialties establishing highest prices for the current movement, while standard shares were dull and irregular.

The activities of pools centered in such issues as American Ice, Gulf States Steel, United Fruit, Electric Storage Battery, Davison Chemical, Remington Typewriter, Kresge, Kayser, Central Leather, Hide and Leather Preferred and Endicott-Johnson at extreme gains of two to five points.

United States Steel was unresponsive to the adverse financial statement for the final quarter of 1921 and most kindred issues were equally apathetic. Coppers and local tractions helped to steady the market in the final dealing.

Further cuts announced by automobile manufactures occasioned moderate selling of that group and Sears-Roebuck became very heavy following the publication of its January statement.

In the bond market, the trend was toward higher levels, Victory 3¾s and 4¾s making new records at $100.30 and $100.22 respectively. Liberties also moved forward, but other domestic issues were hesitant.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's clean, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Have To Go

Clogged up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance.

"Your very life" says Dr Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys, so whatever you do don't neglect them."

Dr Carey's famous prescription No 777 known as Mushroot is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying Kidney, liver and bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating irritability with loss of flesh, backache, headache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney, Liver and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to these diseases don't lose a single day for H. B. Gildersleeve and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first bottle to all who state they have received no benefit.

NOTE—A generous trial bottle of Marsh Root, tablet or liquid form may be secured by sending 25c to Dr. Carey Co. Binghamton, N. Y. [illegible]

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS presents

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS,"

This is "Doug's" newest and most marvelous picture. It is truly a picture for everyone of your family and every family. You can not be too young or too old to enjoy it. Its spell has never been equalled and you, all of you, who know the wonderful ability of Fairbanks, can see what an ideal D'Artagnan he makes—daring, brave, fighting and withal having that courteous grace that bends everything before. It is truly the wonder of all motion picture history.

This is the same Douglas Fairbanks' "The Three Musketeers" which played for nine months at the Lyric Theatre, New York City, at two and one-half dollars admission. And don't lost sight of the fact that this is positively its first showing in Oneonta or vicinity. It will have the same high class presentation at The Strand which characterized the New York City showing.

A WORD EVENT.

An event of great significance in world history—perhaps the event of greatest significance in that history, was the passing yesterday of an agreement which gives force and effect to the Hughes proposition looking to the limitation of naval disarmament. There are five powers in the agreement and under its provisions, which makes the ratio 5 for the United States and Great Britain, 3 for Japan and 1.75 respectively for France and Italy, our government will proceed to scrap 20 and England 24 battleships. Japan will also scrap 24, and the two other powers on acount of their present limited armament, will not be required to scrap until 1930 and 1931.

Always until this time peace has been sought to be safeguarded merely by treaties and agreements of the sort which Germany denominated scraps of paper; and there was nothing in these agreements which would prevent the unscrupulous from violating them and waging war. The Washington agreement does something more than this since the powers will not merely agree to cease warfare but will render themselves impotent by destruction of battleships to engage in maratime conflict. It is not just a gentlemen's agreement. It is a plan which will render fighting impossible.

This, however, is not the only notable thing about the disarmament project. It means that the hundreds of millions of dollars annually expended by the powers will be saved, and that the multitude of workmen employed in the building and the other multitude of sailors to man the ships will be released to peaceful vocations. However other events connected directly or indirectly with the world war may be regarded, this surely is the great thing—that from this time on war on the seas at least is to be rendered physically impossible.

A REAL GRIEVANCE.

A bill introduced in the legislature a few days ago by Assemblyman J. Griswold Webb has behind it the support of the practically all the farmers of the state, who one and all believe that they have a real grievance which the measure is intended to alleviate. Its purpose is to prevent pilfering by persons walking or driving along the public highways, and chiefly it is aimed to a class of law-breakers known as pilfering automobilists.

Commenting on the measure the New York World says:

"There is a large class of people using cars who seem to consider that it is their privilege when riding in the country to help themselves to anything within sight. Whatever catches their fancy is theirs for the taking. Fences are no bar, and the owner's rights do not count. The farmer's apple trees are raided, where handy to the road, and corn fields and vegetable gardens plundered. In sections around New York flower gardens are no longer safe, and shrubbery and trees in bloom are ruthlessly ravaged. In exposed places it is a wise grower of fruit or flowers who stands guard over his property on Sundays and holidays. Usually he must take his chance the rest of the time and make the best of his losses.

"No doubt some of these automobilists are merely thoughtless and would feel hurt to be classed as criminals. Yet they practice plain stealing for their pleasure, no less than others who make it an industry. Either way, their depredations to the farmers and country dwellers mean both constant annoyance and heavy losses. The revocation of thieving automobilists' licenses will not make all offenders honest, but it should act as a restraint, and it would certainly be justified."

CONDEMN DISPENSARIES.

The Physicians' Protective association of Buffalo a few nights ago passed a resolution attacking health centers and free dispensaries, which they say are in danger of pauperizing the people through medical aid, and of developing a condition by which it will be impossible for a young physician to earn a livelihood by the practice of medicine. The association has over 400 members and expresses the sentiments, apparently of the medical profession of Buffalo. One of the speakers maintained that persons of wealth deliberately apply to the dispensaries for the treatment maintained by the city for the good of the poor.

There may be something in the complaint. At any rate free dispensaries and consultations are only intended to supply to the poor the aid which they need, and not to enable the rich to obtain treatment without cost. Buffalo is the only city where as yet there has been active opposition to dispensaries, but there is likely to be in any municipality where the charity of the public is abused.

Increasing Sale of Thrift Bonds.

In the first two weeks of this year postoffices and banks in the Third Federal reserve district sold more than a quarter of a million dollar's worth of treasury savings certificates, commonly known as thrift bonds. So popular has been the demand all over the country that the one thousand dollar denomination certificates are exhausted and new ones will not be ready until next week. In the meantime there is an abundant supply of the $100 variety, which are being taken in gratifying numbers. This result exceeds expectations and is due to the unusual returns this form of investment presents.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.

SHOW 'EM WHAT POTATOES

Agricultural College Asks Farmers to Send Samples of Spuds for Farmers' Week.

The best potatoes of New York state are going to Farmers' Week at Cornell this year, acording to an announcement made by those who have in charge preparations for the fifteenth annual gathering of farm folks which will be held at Ithaca Feb. 13-18.

No matter whether a man is a commercial grower or does his backyard to get a few bushels of spuds for his own use, he can send in specimens of his best potatoes for the Farmers' Week show. A seven-tuber sample of each variety submitted is asked.

No prizes are offered. The sole purpose of the display is educational. The potatoes will be attractively arranged to show the similarity of varieties within each of the principal groups or types of commercial importance in New York state.

How to Send.

It is being urged that samples be mailed at the earliest possible moment. In selecting the exhibit those of average shape and size and those free from any evidence of blemish or disease should be chosen. The tubers should be carefully wrapped in paper, each one separately, packed tightly in a box with paper so as to avoid bruising in transit as well as frosting, and be plainly addressed to the department of vegetable gardening, college of agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

The name and address should be plainly marked on the package, and it will also be well, say those in charge, to mark the package as intended for the potato show. The name and address of the sender as well as the variety name, should of course be placed inside the package.

SOCIAL TIMES AT WEST END.

Mrs. Seaburg Entertains on Birthday; Brotherhood Class Hears Address.

Mrs. Helena Seaburg entertained 30 members of Autumn lodge at her home, 291 Chestnut street, on Tuesday evening, the occasion being her birthday. The evening was pleasantly passed with games, music and other amusements, and later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

During the evening, Mrs. Emogene Bates, in behalf of the gathering, presented Mrs. Seaburg with a handsome hand-painted salad bowl. The ladies spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening together and it was with general regret that the gathering broke up at a late hour.

Portlandville Pastor Addresses Men.

Rev. Mr. Elwood of Portlandville addressed the Men's Brotherhood class of the Elm Park church at its meeting in the church parlors last evening. His remarks were timely and interesting, and greatly enjoyed by all the men.

After the address, a social hour was enjoyed, following which the men served delicious clam chowder, prepared without the assistance of the ladies, despite which fact it proved very delicious. Covers were laid for 75 men. The meeting proved one of the most enjoyable and profitable yet held by the brotherhood.

Purchases Building Lots.

W. D. Butler, the well-known West End contractor, this week purchased of the Ceperley-Morgan Real Estate agency two building lots on the Elm Park plot, just off Lower Chestnut street. The purchase was for investment purposes, Mr. Butler planning to erect cottages thereon in the spring.

Mrs. Yager Improving.

Mrs. Charles Yager, who has been seriously ill at her home, 362 Chestnut street, is slowly improving.

Delaware Farm Bureau Gives Important Lessons in Visual Instruction.

Walton, Feb. 1.—The Farm bureau has recently purchased a portable DeVry motion picture projector and has secured the film, "Spring Valley Farm," for the week beginning February 6. This is a five-reel film built around the wool pool movement. Hal Cunningham comes from the city to work on his uncle's farm. He meets open opposition to his attention to "Pa" Crosby's daughter because "Pa" does not believe in cooperation and thinks that Hal is a foolish young city dapper. There is a source of romance and humor throughout and it is a very interesting film. It should appeal to both country and village folks and every one is invited to be present. There will be no admission charge.

The schedule that has ben planned will be as follows:

Monday, February 6, 8.00 p. m., Town Hall, Hamden.

Tuesday, February 7, 1:30 p. m., Grant's Hall, Hobart.

Wednesday, February 8, 8:00 p. m., Masonic Hall, Roxbury.

Friday, February 10, 8:00 p. m., Andes

GAME WAS VERY HEAVY

Marked Increases in Many Varieties Shown in Returns Made by Hunters to the Conservation Commission—Figures for Otsego County.

Complete returns on game taken by New York state hunters during the season of 1919 just compiled by the Conservation commission show a marked increase of the figures for the preceding season on nearly all varieties of birds and quadrupeds. These figures are taken from returns made by hunters on the stubs of the 1920 hunting licenses which were forwarded to the commission during 1921.

The increase shown this year is partly due to more complete reports, town clerks having a better appreciation of the importance of supplying the information and because space is now provided on the face of the license sub for making the reports. The fact that the number of hunters was larger in 1919 also helps to account for the increased take of game.

These reports do not include game taken by boys under 16 who are permitted to trap fur-bearing animals without a license or by farmers who hunt or trap on their own land without a license.

For 1918, a total of 1,526,960 animals was reported by 212,301 hunters.

For 1919 a total of 1,724,510 animals was reported by 251,634 hunters

There was a very large increase in the take of cottontail rabbits. Hunters from 44 counties reported an increase of 109,007 as compared with the preceding year, while hunters from 18 counties reported a decrease of 10,751, making a net increase for the whole state of 98,256, with a total take of 503,636.

The take of ruffled grouse showed an increase of nearly 15 percent, indicating a marked recovery in these birds which a few years ago were supposed to be nearly exterminated. The returns from 46 counties showed an aggregate increase of 8,238, while 15 counties reported decreases totalling 2,316, making a net increase of 5,972.

Pheasants showed an increase of nearly 30 percent, which furnishes a pretty good indication that through the operation of the state's three game farms these birds are now well established. Fifty-one counties reported increases aggregating 10,949, while only 11 counties reported small decreases and the net increase was 10,-339.

The largest decrease reported was in the take of muskrats. Forty-three counties reported decreases aggregating 107,897, while from only 18 counties were increases reported, the net decrease being 92,086. The take of nearly 400,000 during the preceding year due to the great demand for furs, was felt to be heavier than these animals could stand, and the marked decline would appear to confirm the belief in over-trapping.

The returns on all kinds of game for Otsego county follow:

Skunks, 9,832, an increase of 2,785; muskrats, 8,148, a decrease of 768; cottontail rabbits, 6,636, an increase of 622; grey squirrels, 3,907, an increase of 376; grouse or partridge, 1,272, an increase of 326; ducks, 482, an increase of 183; raccoons, 438, a decrease of 86; red foxes, 439, an increase of 147; woodcock, 266, an increase of 177; pheasants, 241, an increase of 194; jack rabbits, 158, an increase of 158; snowshoe rabbits, 155, an increase of 37; grey foxes, 128, an increase of 68; fox squirrels, 128, an increase of 65; black squirrels, 115, an increase of 82; mink, 107, a decrease of 45; deer (bucks), 86, an increase of 45; deer (does), 46; Wilson or jacksnipe, 24, an increase of 24; sable or marten, 17, a decrease of 8; opossum, 8, an increase of 8; geese, 6, an increase of 6; rails, 4, an increase of 2; bears, 3, a decrease of 1; fishers, 3, an increase of 3; coots, 2, a decrease of 3; lesser yellowlegs, 2; quail, 1, a decrease of 4; golden plover, 1, an increase of 1; bobcats, 1, an increase of 1; number of licenses, 4,136, an increase of 686.

OVERCOME BY COAL GAS

Aged South Side Couple Partially Asphyxiated by Gas Escaping From Range, But Will Recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Smith, an aged couple residing on South Side a half mile outside the city limits, were partially asphyxiated yesterday morning by coal gas escaping from a parlor stove in their home. Neither is in a serious condition, however, and it is thought that a day or two will see them fully recovered.

The most plausible explanation of the accident is that when Mr. and Mrs. Smith retired Tuesday night they left the damper in the stove pipe closed, and that during the night the gas escaped through openings in the stove and where the pipe enters the chimney. The first anyone else knew of the situation was when their grandson, Lynn Smith, returned early yesterday morning with his wife from a visit with South Side relatives. The Smith families reside in the adjoining sections of a double house, and as the younger Mr. and Mrs. Smith were entering their home, they heard a call for help from Mr. Smith's aged grandmother. Entering, he found the rooms filled with gas. The aged couple were removed and soon revived after getting some fresh air.

Dr. G. W. Simmons of this city was summoned and gave restoratives. Mr. Smith seemed in a more serious condition and kept his bed during the afternoon. The physician stated that he anticipated no serious result and expects Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be themselves in a day or two. Both are over 70 years of age. They are being cared for by their daughter, Mrs. James Smith, and granddaughter, Mrs. Lynn Smith.

Changes of Residence.

Fred Whipple, a former resident of South Side, moved his family yesterday from his residence at 368 Main street to the South Side farm which he recently purchased of John Callahan. The Main street residence will be occupied by F. L. Thayer, the optometrist, who has rented it from Mr. Whipple.

Mr. and Mrs Callahan have already moved to the farm in East Meredith which they purchased of Fred Whipple. Both farms are desirable properties.

Local Notes.

Henry Webb is confined to his South Side home by illness. Dr. T. L. Craig of Davenport is the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Cole of North Franklin were week-end guests at the homes of Wilson Coe and Clyde Whipple.

Peter and Ludwig Hartman motored to Stamford Tuesday, where they spent the day on business errands.

REYNOLDS' JURY DISAGREES

After Two Hours Jury in Case of Luke E. Reynolds, Charged With Running Disorderly House, Disagrees and Case Is Dismissed by Judge Huntington.

After being out nearly two hours, the jury in the case of the people against Luke E. Reynolds, on trial in city court yesterday for keeping an alleged disorderly house, disagreed and the case was dismissed by Judge Huntington. It is understood that on their last ballot the jury stood five for acquittal and one for conviction.

Reynolds, proprietor of the Reynolds hotel at the corner of Broad and Prospect streets, was arrested some time ago on a warrant issued by City Judge Huntington and charging that he was keeping a disorderly house. Reynolds pleaded not guilty when arraigned and the case was adjourned until yesterday morning. The case was called at 10 a. m. and the whole day was consumed in examining the many witnesses called by both sides, the jury retiring at 6 p. m. It was the contention of the prosecution that two couples who were not married, had registered at the hotel as man and wife on several occasions and that they were using their rooms for immoral purposes with the knowledge of Mr. Reynolds. The defense, while admitting that the persons in question had stopped there, contended that Mr. Reynolds was ignorant of the fact that they were indulging in immoral practices.

The case was prosecuted by Donald Grant and the defendant was represented by George L. Bockes. As is usual when a case of the nature of this one is being tried, the court room was crowded throughout the day.

One third of your life is allotted to sleep. Do you get your share?

The most important period in the process of applying nutrition to the repair of the body is while you are asleep. For the most favorable transformation of digested food into nerve and cell tissue, so doctors tell us, sleep is absolutely essential.

Is it any wonder that those who suffer from lack of proper sleep are weak, pale and lacking in energy or ambition?

One of the causes of insomnia is nerve-irritation from tea and coffee drinking. Tea and coffee both contain caffeine, which has a tendency to cause undue stimulation. The irritating effect of caffeine often results in insomnia, depression, and a weakened nervous system.

You can easily overcome these troubles by drinking Postum instead of tea or coffee. Postum is a delicious, satisfying cereal beverage, and it is absolutely free from caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this delicious, refreshing beverage for ten days. Then see if you do not feel better and more clear headed, and if you do not sleep better at night—as so many other people have proved for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

CHESTNUT STREET SCHOOL

WARD SCHOOL GUTTED BY FIRE ON NOVEMBER 20, WILL REOPEN ON MONDAY NEXT.

Practically All of Interior Had to Be Rebuilt — Building Now Represents Last Word in School Construction — New Features Added—Meritorious Work of Contractors Has Made Opening Possible in Very Short Time After Fire.

On Monday next, but 11 weeks after it was gutted by fire to an extent that made it necessary to rebuild practically the entire interior, the Chestnut street school will be opened for regular class work. But very little work now remains to be done to make the building ready for occupancy The newest and best of the ward schools of the city at the time that it burned, the Chestnut street school is now the last word in school architecture, features having been added in the rebuilding that make the building even more attractive and useful than formerly

That the building will be ready for occupancy so soon after the fire, much credit is due the architect Orlo Epps; the contractors, C C. Miller and Ira A Silliman company, and Superintendent of Schools George J. Dann. The building was burned on the morning of Sunday, November 20. By the next Friday, a complete inventory had been taken, the insurance claims adjusted, the plans prepared, the contracts let, and work on the building begun The size of the task accomplished in so short a time can be seen when it is realized that the building had to be practically rebuilt with the exception of the outside walls and some of the partitions inside. Every floor had to be relaid the walls plastered anew throughout, the building redecorated from cellar to roof, and the plumbing and heating systems repaired. A large force of men was at once put at work by Contractor Silliman and by C. C Miller, who had the contract for the plumbing heating and lighting, and work has been pushed as rapidly as possible

Ample care has been taken in regard to fire prevention and control The furnace room, where the fire started, has been bricked in and furnished with fire doors and windows of wire glass The wood, the piling of which around the furnace caused the fire, will now be kept in a brick vault with a heavy fire door. A new fire alarm system, with boxes on every floor, has been provided.

New floors have been laid in every room and the woodwork has been thoroughly gone over and replaced with new material where damaged The walls and woodwork have been redecorated throughout in pleasing brown tones It was necessary to build new stairways in the central portion of the building where the most damage was done On the second floor the auditorium has been furnished with a stage of ample size and well appointed. A temporary platform had been in use before. Drinking fountains in the halls are another convenience not found in the old building

The lighting is of the most modern type and is of a kind not found in any other school in the city. The light or cluster of lights in the center of the class room ceilings have been replaced by four lights dropped from the ceiling, one near each corner of the room. This makes it possible to light effectively every portion of the rooms.

The gymnasium in the basement, which had never been finished off has been cased with beaverboard and put in first class condition for the use of the pupils. The general school equipment destroyed in the fire has been replaced and added to The repairs have cost approximately $14,000

During the course of repairs the 244 pupils of the school have been given part time work in the High school and River street school buildings, a course of procedure which made it necessary to put part of the pupils in those schools on part time also. With the opening of the Chestnut street school on Monday students in the grades affected at the High school will be put back on full time At the River street school whose facilities are inadequate even for its regular students, full time will be resumed in two grades only.

PATROLMEN APPOINTED

Fred L. Crouch and Charles D. Terrell Appointed Patrolmen by Police Commission Yesterday—Began Their Duties Last Evening.

Fred L. Crouch of 217 Main street and Charles D. Terrell of 23 Miller street were appointed patrolmen at a meeting of the Police Commission held yesterday afternoon The appointments were effective at once and last evening the men were swinging nightsticks with the other members of the force In accordance with civil service regulations the men will be put on probation for three months and will be made regular members of the force if their services have proven satisfactory.

Officer Crouch has been a temporary patrolman on the force since May 4, 1921, and is hence by no means a new man He took an examination at that time however, and it was necessary for him to pass the civil service examination before he could receive a permanent appointment Crouch has been assigned to regular duties practically ever since his temporary appointment and has acquitted himself in such fashion as to receive the commendation of his superiors and of the public in general That he is now made a regular member of the force is a source of gratification to many.

Officer Terrell, who pinned on the police badge for the first time last evening has been employed at the plant of the Elmore Milling company. Although born in Oneonta he spent several years in California, returning to the city but a few months since He has qualifications that admirably fit him for his duties as patrolman and that he will prove an efficient and courteous officer is the belief of the commission and of his many friends.

It is probable that other appointments from the eligible list created by the civil service examination held last Saturday will be made at subsequent meetings of the Police Commission

SUNNIEKREST FARM OPENED

J. G. Hoyt Places on Sale Parcel of Choice Building Lots on Goodyear Lake — Several Already Purchased by Oneonta Men.

That Goodyear lake already famed as a summer resort will be made still more attractive in the future is indicated by the announcement that J G. Hoyt, who owns an extensive tract of land on the north side of the lake, has opened a new plot of cottage sites abutting his Cliffside plot and has already sold six of the lots to well known Oneontans Those who have purchased the lots are Herbert C. Getman, Ralph S. Wyckoff Dr N W. Getman, Dr L S Lang Frank M. Gurney and Eugene L Ward. It is understood that they will build summer cottages upon their land in the near future

The new plot which has been called Sunniekrest Farm, is a part of the old Hunt farm and has been owned by Mr. Hoyt for several years. It extends along the waterfront just west of the Cliffside tract and approximately across the lake from the Walsh dancing pavilion. The lots have a frontage of 75 feet each and vary in depth from 175 to 270 feet. There is thus room upon them for a good-sized cottage, tennis courts and playgrounds. Standing upon a bluff 30 feet above the water, they have a location unexcelled on either side of the lake The lots are but a short distance from the railroad and about a quarter of a mile from the state road to Albany.

Briggs, A. E. Cepelley, Edward Crippen, A W. Cutler, W. P Eggleston, Leslie Gardner, Herbert Getman, F. H. Marx, C H McCarthy, C C Miller, Frank G Sherman, C J. VanDeusen and Ralph S Wyckoff.

Ballots for the final election will be mailed to the members in several days, and the election committee decided last night that the polls will close Thursday evening of next week at 7.30 o'clock, but that the results of the election will not be announced until the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held the following evening, Friday, February 10, in Municipal hall.

Nine members of the election committee had a busy time of it last night for several hours, canvassing the 180 ballots cast After the first canvass of the votes, the competition was so close between a few candidates that Chairman Earl A Smith directed a recount, which showed the same result as obtained at first The check, however, made certain beyond a question of a doubt that the canvass was accurate.

CHILD PROBLEMS OF TODAY.

Miss Barrett of Normal Faculty Addresses Mother's Club.

There was an unusually good attendance yesterday at the meeting of the Mothers' club, held in the First Baptist church parlors. The discussion which followed, and which was led by Mrs Clarence Avery and Mrs Carl Steere, was participated in by a considerable number of those in attendance. Later refreshments were served and the year books for 1922 were given out

The next meeting of the club will be held the first Wednesday in March.

CONDITION NOT SERIOUS

Allen E. Zindle, Injured Near Richmondville, Resting Comfortably Last Evening — Both He and Companion, Harry Agnew, Fell Through Culvert.

Allen E. Zindle, who was seriously injured when he fell through a railroad culvert near Richmondville early Tuesday morning, was reported to be resting comfortably at the Fox Memorial hospital last evening. An examination showed that he was suffering from a fracture at the base of the brain, but as there was no depression and consequently no pressure upon the brain, it is not thought that his condition is critical.

Delaware and Hudson officials investigated the accident yesterday and found that the man who carried Zindle to the nearby farmhouse and then disappeared was Harry Agnew, an employe of the Purity Ice Cream company. Agnew's story is that he and Zindle had been to Cobleskill and were returning to Oneonta on a southbound freight train. The train was moving slowly up the Richmondville hill and at a point just north of the culvert, which spans the main highway, the two men dropped off the train and ran by its side to warm themselves. In the darkness—it was then about 2 a. m.—they failed to see the culvert and both pitched through it to the ground 25 feet below, Agnew landing on top of Zindle and escaping with a no more serious injury than a sprained wrist.

Agnew, perceiving that his companion was unconscious and possibly seriously injured, spent some time in hunting for someone to aid him in taking Zindle to a place of shelter. Failing to locate anyone at that hour in the morning, Agnew carried his friend to the nearby farmhouse of Mrs. J. H. Barrett. He then left for Oneonta to report the accident to the yardmaster, Zindle's superior.

MARRIED AT UNADILLA

Grace Henrietta Fairbanks Becomes Bride of Leo B. Sisson in Pretty Ceremony Yesterday.

Unadilla, Feb. 1.—Grace Henrietta Fairbanks, daughter of Justice of the Peace and Mrs. A. J. Fairbanks of this village, and Leo B. Sisson of Unadilla and Wells Bridge were united in marriage at 4 p. m. today at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George A. Fairbanks of McGraw, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. E. J. Griswold of the Unadilla Baptist church.

The Fairbanks home was very prettily decorated in pink and white and presented a very pleasing appearance. During the ceremony Frank S. Davis presided at the piano. The matron of honor was Mrs. Georgia Fairbanks Cross, a sister of the bride, and the best man was Lee S. Cross, the bride's brother-in-law. The ushers were Miss Ruth Bouck of Wells Bridge and Frank Holdredge of Oxford. The bride was attractively gowned in white georgette over white silk and her attendant was garbed in pink georgette with pearl trimmings.

After the bridal luncheon, the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Upon their return they will reside in a furnished apartment which awaits them in the home of W. H. Davis on Main street. The bride is an accomplished member of the younger social set of the village and is a young lady with a host of friends here. The groom is a well known decorator who likewise has many friends in Unadilla. During the World war he saw long and honorable service overseas.

IMPORTANT TO DAIRYMEN.

Milk Dealers Accept "Warren Formula" for Class One Milk.

Action which has for some time been desired by many dairymen and over which there has been considerable discussion for several years was taken at the recent meeting of the directors of the Dairymen's League Cooperative association in New York, when the New York Milk Conference board agreed to use the Warren formula as the basis for fixing the price of fluid or class one milk.

By means of this formula, milk in class one will be sold at cost of production plus a fair profit. In other words, the formula is a method of arriving at the cost of production of milk based on very careful surveys that have been conducted in the various dairy sections of the country. The formula was originated by Prof. G. F. Warren of the New York State College of Agriculture.

A New Used Car Policy

We have been giving the matter of merchandising used cars a great deal of careful consideration, and as is usual with us when we have been weighing a matter in our mind and arrived at a conclusion regarding the same, we are going to hit right from the shoulder and say just exactly what we mean.

In the first place, it has always been our contention that a man would get more honest wear and satisfaction out of a used car of one of the better makes than he would get out of any cheap new car. It is no more possible to build the same long life into a cheap car than into a cheap suit of clothes.

What then, is the reason that good used cars do not sell in preference to cheap new ones? Simply and only because the policy of dealers has been to sell their used cars without a guarantee and as soon as these used cars are sold they become orphans, so called because there is no service station that they can call home.

As an experiment along the line of demonstrating our theory to ourselves, we about three years ago instituted a policy of making a guarantee on used cars of the makes we were handling. This policy has worked out with such great satisfaction to both our customers and ourselves that we are doing it as a basis for a policy that is, we believe, new in Oneonta and vicinity.

Beginning February 1, 1922, all used cars sold by us, regardless of make, and selling for $100.00 or more, will carry the same guarantee and be backed by the same service policy as that which applies to new cars sold by us. This guarantee is for ninety days and is plainly printed on the back of our car order blanks; nothing indefinite, everything in black and white. We believe that anything worth doing at all is worth doing well, hence we put our used cars in the best possible mechanical condition, and if necessary refinish them. We handle only standard makes so that when we put a guarantee on them we know what we are doing.

In conclusion: We have always tried and believe we have succeeded in establishing a reputation for giving the best used car values in Oneonta. Over five hundred satisfied owners of our used cars in Oneonta and vicinity is a record of which any concern might well be proud. We are proud of our record and now we are going to do it one better. And thus shall our success continue.

Toronto, Ont.—"I was weak, run-down and nervous. I had dizzy spells and no ambition to do anything. I saw Vinol advertised and tried it. In about one week I felt better, and it built me up and restored my strength. I want to recommend Vinol to other women who are weak, nervous and run-down."—Mrs. E. Trotter, 15 Wardell St., Toronto.

There are hundreds of women in this vicinity who are in just such a condition as Mrs. Trotter was before she took Vinol. If such women would only realize that in a natural manner Vinol creates a hearty appetite, aids digestion, makes rich, red blood, quickens the circulation, and strengthens every organ and muscle of the body, we would not be able to supply the demand. $1.00 per bottle, guaranteed.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N.Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

HALF MOONS STRENGTHENED

Manager Vincent Adds Several Stars to His Lineup and Is Planning Games With Best Teams in the State.

Manager George Vincent has reorganized his basketball team, the Oneonta Half Moons, adding several new men, and is now in the field for games with the strongest teams in the state. Vincent is planning an extensive trip starting February 13, on which games will be played with teams in Hudson Falls, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. To round out the trip schedule he desires contests with fast quintets in Albany, Rhinebeck and Beacon. A challenge to teams in the Utica district has also been issued by Manager Vincent.

The Half Moons have always been a fast travelling quintet, and with their lineup now considerably strengthened they should give a good account of themselves in all their contests. Their next games in this vicinity will be with the Delhi Bearcats at Delhi on February 7, and with the Company H five at Binghamton on a date yet to be decided.

Tax Burden Per Captia Is $107.

Unlike the local and federal administrations, the state of New York is cutting expenditure and reducing taxation. Careful as this procedure should be it does not help business much because much business state taxation is only in the form of the total; a saving of 10 per cent there would mean only $1 in every $100 now paid for all public purposes. The total burden of taxation is 170 per cent greater in New York state than before the war and stands at $106.97 for every man, woman and child. That would be $5.35 for the average family—except that the average family itself grows smaller under economic pressure and no longer consists of five persons. The average income of the assumed five-person family, rich and poor, in the entire country cannot be much above $2,500, even at present prices and wages. Taxation thus absorbs one-fifth of the total national income. The federal government alone takes nearly if not quite $10 out of each $100 of income where it used to take but $3.—[New York World.

GET COLOR INTO YOUR PALE CHEEKS

If Your Face Is Your Fortune, Don't Look Like a Bankrupt

Who does not want red lips, a good, clear, healthy complexion and bright, flashing eyes?

Some people have such wonderfully good health nothing seems to hurt them. Others could so easily have fine color and more strength and vigor if they would help nature with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It is a splendid iron tonic that physicians have prescribed for thirty years. It is not an experiment. It is not merely a temporary help, because it makes plenty of red blood and, as everybody knows, red blood is the only sure foundation of permanent health and strength. Get Pepto-Mangan of your druggist and take it a few weeks and see how much better you feel and look. Sold in liquid and tablet form. advt.

MANY POOLERS MEET

Over 700 Local Co-Operative Associations Elect Directors and Endorse Plans.

Over 700 enthusiastic meetings of poolers, says the Dairymen's League News, were held on Saturday, January 28th, over the entire territory covered by the Dairymen's League Cooperative association. These meetings were the annual local meetings which are regularly held on the last Saturday in January for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year. More than 700 of these branches have completed their incorporation under the new cooperative arrangement.

The new membership signs which were distributed at these meetings have apparently made a great hit with the dairymen. This sign is metal and about 10 by 27½ inches. It can be distinguished at a distance because it has the familiar blue and white oval arrangement which characterizes the League advertising.

In many instances the meetings were followed by supper and other entertainment. The reports of attendance show that all of the meetings were characterized by excellent attendance and out spoken approval of the pooling plan as it is being operated.

MEN'S CLUB OF PLAINS CHURCH.

Listens With Pleasure to Inspiring Address by Rev. Bonne-Echolt.

An event of genuine interest in the history of the Plains Methodist Episcopal church was the banquet to the men's class of the society on Tuesday evening, followed by an address by Rev. Bonne-Echolt, pastor of the Methodist church at New Berlin. The supper itself, to which fifty men sat down, was a delicious repast, served by the ladies of the church under direction of Mrs. William Richards, assisted by Mrs. Eugene Ritenbark and Mrs. Harry Shepherd.

Following the dinner Charles H. Booth as toastmaster introduced Rev. Bonne-Echolt of New Berlin as the speaker of the evening. Taking for his theme the injunction of Dr. Van-Dyke, that one who would keep his record true must think clearly, act from pure motives, sincerely love his fellow man and fully trust in God, the speaker contrasted the church of the past and present and urged the development of the four-fold nature of man along mental, physical, social and spiritual lines. If a church does not do this he said, it has no right to exist. The meeting throughout was inspiring and helpful, and all listened with closest atention to the principal speaker and to the pastor, Rev. C. C. Volz, who gave a resume of the history of the class.

During his sojourn in Oneonta Mr. Bonne-Echolt was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Booth at their home, 2 West End avenue. He returned to New Berlin yesterday morning.

"Fruit-a-tives" Restored Her Strength and Vitality

MOULTONVILLE, CARROLL CO., N. H.

"I was all run down and work was burdensome owing to Indigestion, and gas on my stomach which caused me to belch a good deal. My heart seemed to be affected.

It was two years ago that I was in this condition and began the use of "Fruit-a-tives", which proved the very remedy I required. I was freed of the Indigestion, which I attributed to my heart; and I can conscientiously recommend "Fruit-a-tives" the great Fruit Medicine".
